

Partnership With The Nordic Sedimentary Research Group

BECOME A PARTNER

The Nordic Sedimentary Research Group welcomes collaboration with institutions and organizations where researchers and professionals in the Nordic countries can share their research, start new collaborations and network with international sedimentologists and stratigraphers. The NSRG shall provide a complementary platform to bigger conferences, allowing researchers to network in a more relaxed and informal environment.

Would your institution or organisation like to begin a partnership with the NSRG? Or would you like more information regarding our sponsorship packages?

If so, please get in touch at contact@nordicsrg.com

Our current partner institutions are:

UiO : Department of Geosciences
University of Oslo
